

An Organized (after)Life

helping you make your death as organized as your life

What is An Organized (after)Life?

An Organized (after)Life is a different way of looking at estate planning by understanding its fundamental purpose, minimizing the legal fallout that will happen when you die. That takes a basic understanding of how the legal process works, what issues the people grieving you will face, when you need professionals, and organization. An Organized (after)Life gives you the tools to do just that.

Who are you?

I'm Jennifer Gumbel. A wife, mom, and estate planning attorney. I'm also the creator and bullhorn behind An Organized (after)Life and the podcast. I have a compulsion, not only helping families deal with the legal fallout after someone dies, but helping people get their affairs in order to minimize the fallout for their loved ones. That means helping you, and your audience, understand what to do to check this off the to-do list.

As seen or heard...

Up and At 'Em
Minnesota's Morning Podcast

The Forward

What are people saying?

Jennifer made her topic fun and relatable.

Best presentation on this topic!
EVER Thanks for the humor and simple approach. I get it! And motivated to act.

Humor and steady pace.
Simply outstanding!
Learned sooo much.

www.organizedafterlife.com

admin@anorganizedafterlife.com

Instagram: @jengumbel

Find An Organized (after)Life on iTunes