

Jen Gumbel

Legal Educator, Speaker, Creator of An Organized (after)Life

Who are you?

I'm Jen Gumbel, legal educator, speaker and creator of An Organized (after)Life. I've spent over a decade walking families through the legal to-do list they're left with and I am dedicated to something my industry doesn't do well, equipping people to leave a manageable to-do list. I challenge people to make good legacy and understand that considering the number of your days isn't morbid: it makes you wise.

What do you talk about?

Challenging people to consider their legacy. Whether it's digging into what lasting impact can be or the practical information of how to leave a manageable legal to-do list so that people are able to recognize and carry on legacy.

- estate planning
- financial organization
- legacy and lasting impact
- momento mori
- leadership
- parenting
